Basic Entry

1. Supply and Demand

Range or Consolidation

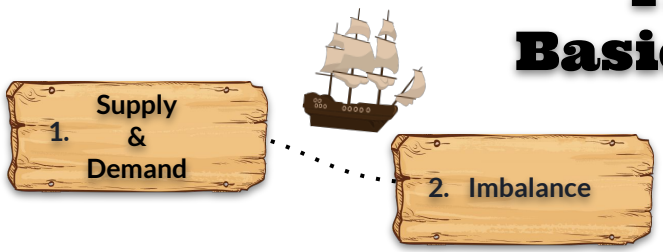

1. Range builds up orders.
2. Supply turns into Demand.
3. Demand Turns into Supply.

These areas provide a PoI (Point of interest)
This allows us to keep watch for reversal and continuation points.

2. Imbalance

1. Imbalances are also known as inefficiencies.
2. The market always needs to be “fairly” delivered, that’s why they come back to these zones to fill these Imbalances
3. They are areas which not all orders were delivered in the order books.
4. Use Imbalance to produce tight stops resulting in 1:100s

Basic Entry

3.

Continuation

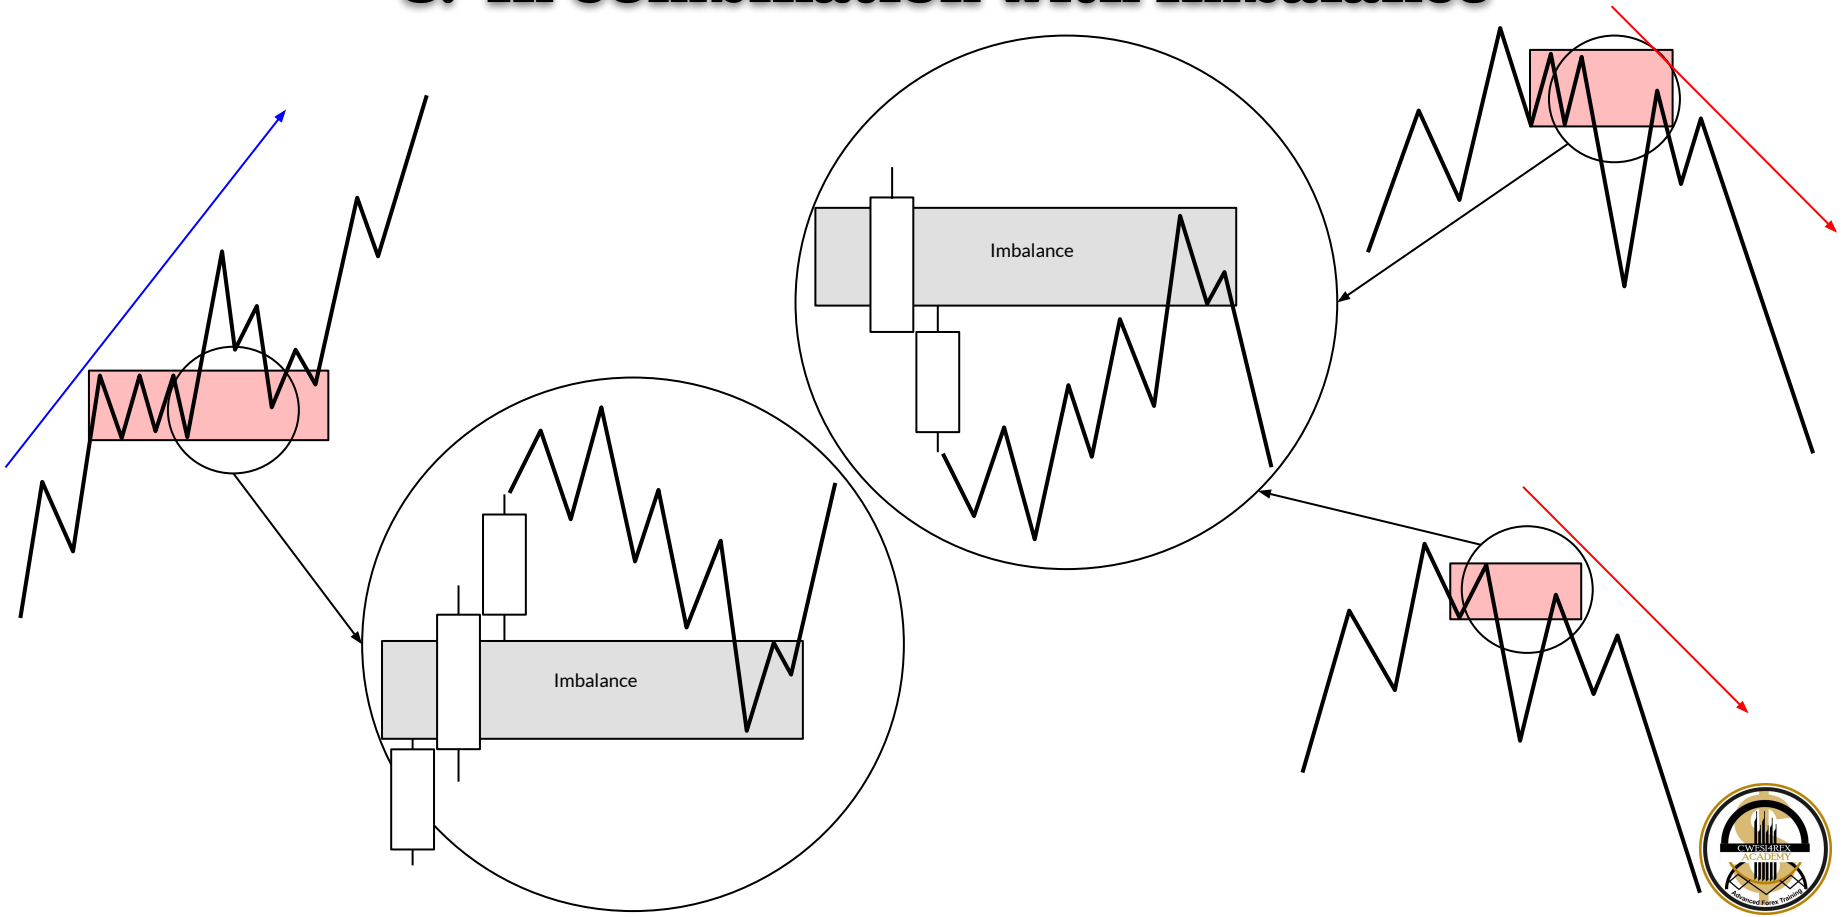

Reversal

1. Continuations are ‘Trend Like’
2. Reversals - reverse the Trend.
3. There are conditions to trade either a trend or reversal.
4. We even know when the Continuation will turn into a reversal!

3. In Combination with Imbalance

Basic Entry

6. Order-Flow Mitigation

1. It is a combination out of a trending Market, Supply and Demand and Imbalance Mitigations
2. Structural continuations.
3. Small pullbacks to grab liquidity to allow the orders to flow in both directions.
4. Very easily identifiable and traps trend traders in the long term.

6. Order-Flow Mitigation

1. Use MTF analysis to confirm and refine analysis.
2. Order flow on the HTF allows you to trade the 'in between' bit easily and freely.
3. You want clean strong movements to clearly identify entry opportunities.

8. Liquidity

liquidity

/lɪˈkwɪdɪti/

noun FINANCE

the availability of liquid assets to a market or company.
"the banks closed, causing serious liquidity problems for smaller companies"

- liquid assets; cash.
  "a firm may be unable to pay unless it has spare liquidity"
- a high volume of activity in a market.

- So essentially it is ALL the money that moves through the market.
- This includes ALL the money that also is sitting in the market waiting to be ‘Liquidated’
- Can be Stop Losses, Limit Orders and Stop Orders
- Therefor Stop Losses are seen as Liquidity due to the fact it’s entered positions easily liquidated at some point to make high volume of activity exist in the market.
- Since it’s what keeps the market moving (ie: Liquid) The market naturally gravitates to Liquidity Areas.

8. Liquidity

THE “L” in LIT

It only makes up 5% of the knowledge and concepts we teach.

8. Liquidity

Retail traders ‘using’ liquidity.

If you CAN’T SEE the LIQUIDITY
THEN
You ARE the LIQUIDITY!

8. Liquidity

Think about it this way:

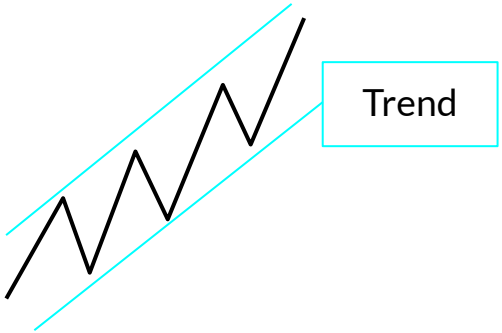

Every time there is a BUY or SELL people are matched up with opposing orders.

When a SL is hit the Same is TRUE! For example when a SL for a BUY is hit, someone losses their buy position and someone else BUYs it back for a discounted price!

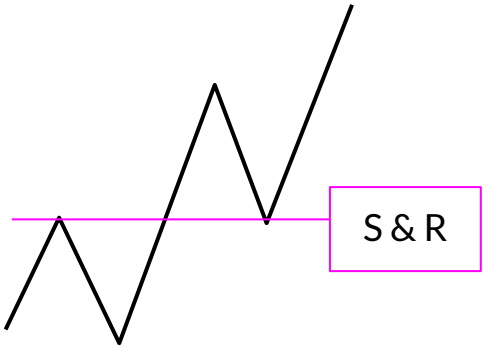

It’s Part Supply & Demand, but deeper than that. It’s understanding everyone else's positions in the market.

8. Liquidity

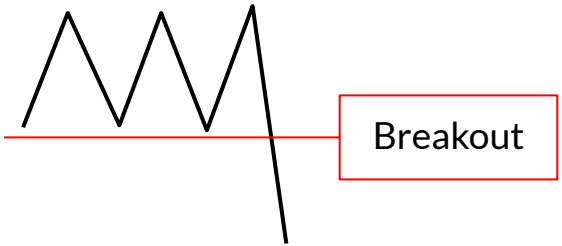

Basic LQ creation

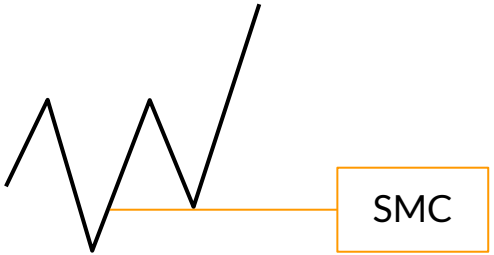

Orders being built in the direction of market movement in one continuous direction.

The not only picks up BO traders orders but 'Flip Flop' traders. In hopes for continuation.

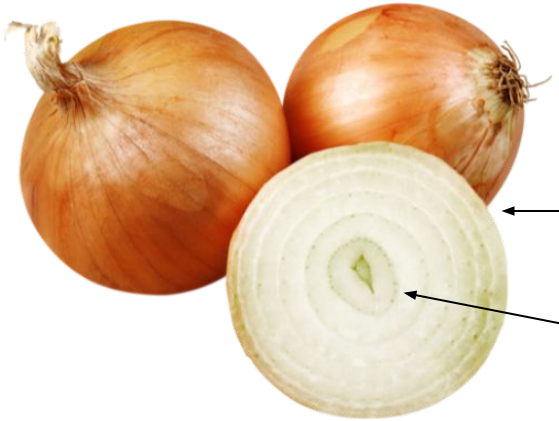

Picks up orders after some type of structure to the left has been broken in hopes that it continues in that direction.

Smart Money Continuation from reversal picks up orders relating to smart money concepts.

Smart Money Traps

When you cut through the SM Onion

You uncover the harsh reality.

SM becomes LQ

80% of ALL Smart Money interest areas FAIL! Inducements are the key!

Smart Money

This doesn't mean Retail / SM Concepts Doesn't Work At All.

It can work, and does work for some.
It's just not optimal, and not a long term solution.

Remember
Everyone was once there, we were even there before!

We don't want you to go through the same Pain as we did!

You need to combine it with multiple different Confluence of Events in order to get the best out of it!

Basic Entry

10. Inducements

inducement

/ɪnˈdjuːsm(ə)nt/

noun

a thing that persuades or leads someone to do something.
"companies were prepared to build only in return for massive inducements"

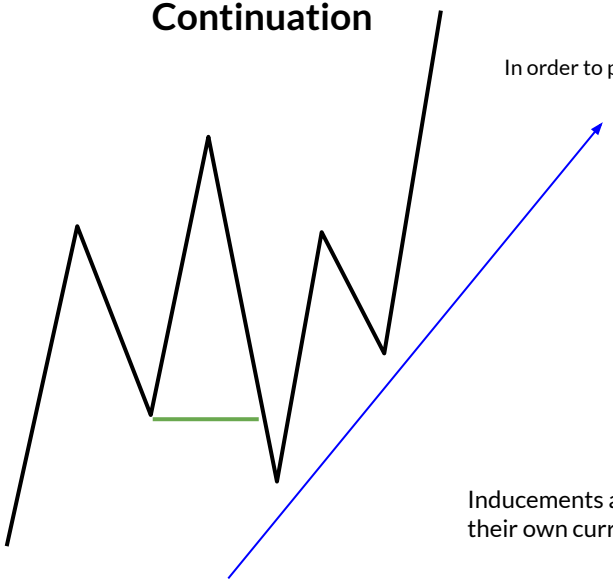

Similar: incentive | attraction | encouragement | temptation | incitement

- a bribe.
  "it is claimed that she was offered an inducement to plead guilty"

- People are induced to do things all the time, in the market we talk about mass psychology and how the rest of the world is being fooled to take their 'retail trade'.
- DO NOT fall for the same tricks, SEE the PAIN in the MARKET!

10. Inducements

Continuation

In order to push price higher, it has to induce low first

Reversal

Inducements are a full topic as it's own and have their own curriculum inside our LIT bootcamp

Continuation inducement makes people think the trade is going in the opposite direction the market actually is going.

Reversal inducements make traders believe the market is continuing in their direction, creates a false hope and then reverses when the most Retailers have taken the trade.
